

FISHER ISLAND

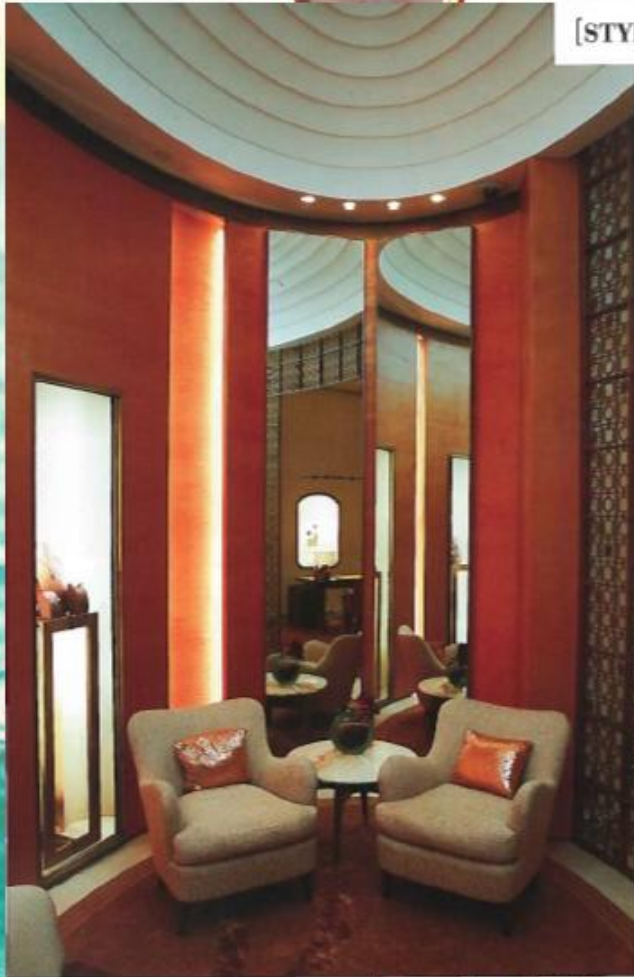

MAGAZINE

[STYLE]

BAL HARBOUR SHOPS

This shopping mecca is, as usual, all business this year. Kicking off 2015 was the unveiling of a fully renovated Intermix boutique, spanning 3,100 square feet and featuring custom-made marble mannequins. Two other stores that underwent a transformation are the two-story La Perla and the Giorgio Armani boutique, both boasting brand new design concepts. Valentino and Chopard were next, showcasing sleek and gleaming storefronts by the end of summer and early fall, respectively. The often-touted "chic-boutique" The Webster Miami is now calling the Shops "home" with the opening of its first-ever men's store, The Webster Men, complete with masculine interior design and brands such as Saint Laurent, Dior Homme, and Balmain in stock. DSquared2 opened in February, making it one of only two located in the U.S. Later this year, Bottega Veneta designer Tomas Meier will set up shop in Bal Harbour, along with the newest-brand-on-the-block watch designer Richard Mille, and top-tier luxury goods giant Goyard.

ABOVE: Bulgari Bal Harbour Boutique
RIGHT: Bal Harbour Shops

